OAAA ANNOUNCEMENTS & SERVICES

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

Let me tell young people this - you may encounter many defeats, but you must not be defeated. It may even be necessary to encounter some defeats to know who you are.

SPOTLIGHT ON STUDENT ACHIEVEMENTS

Weston Gobar is a Third year student in the College of Arts and Sciences, majoring in History with a minor in Government and Foreign Affairs. Hailing from Spotsylvania, Virginia, he plays trumpet and serves in the Equipment Crew of the UVa Cavalier Marching Band. Weston loves studying history and is considering an academic career as a historian.

For the past two summers, Weston was a research and on-site intern at the Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania National Military Park, where he studied the American Reconstruction and slavery during the Civil War era. At UVa, he is a very active OAAA Peer Advisor, and the political action advisor for the Black Student Alliance.

You can nominate an exceptional student (not yourself) to be featured in the Spotlight on Student Achievements, please send your nominations to Dean Patrice Grimes (pgrimes@virginia.edu) by Thursday by 12 noon for an upcoming OAAA edition.

The Office of African-American Affairs is on FACEBOOK! LIKE US to keep up-to-date with events and more info about OAAA!

Maya Angelou was an American poet, actor, professor and civil rights activist. She participated in Civil Rights movement efforts and worked with Martin Luther King Jr. and Malcolm X. An international lecturer, she made dozens of appearances on the lecture circuit yearly until her 80s, and was the recipient of numerous awards. In 1993, Angelou recited her poem "On the Pulse of Morning" (1993) at President William J. Clinton's inauguration, making her the first poet to recite at an inaugural event since Robert Frost at President John F. Kennedy's inauguration in 1961. She was a mentor to many contemporary political and social figures, including Oprah Winfrey. Angelou died in 2014 in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, where she was on the faculty of Wake Forest University.

THIS WEEK IN BLACK HISTORY

WEEK OF OCTOBER 10TH TO OCTOBER 16TH

October 10th, 1957 - President Dwight D. Eisenhower apologizes to African diplomat

President Dwight D. Eisenhower offers his apologies to Ghanaian Finance Minister, Komla Agbeli Gbedemah, who had been refused service at a restaurant in Dover, Delaware. It was one of the first of many such incidents in which African diplomats were confronted with racial segregation in the United States. Although the matter might appear rather small relative to other events in the Cold War, the continued racial slights to African (and Asian) diplomats during the 1950s and 1960s concerned U.S. officials. Visit: <http://www.history.com/this-day-in-history/president-dwight-d-eisenhower-apologizes-to-african-diplomat> to learn more.
